13.1 Commune stances

13.1.1 Start area

The starting area shall be designated in appendix of the present sailing instructions. Shall Race Committee be obliged to choose another start area, L over AP flags shall be displayed on the Committee Boat, meaning “Follow me to a new start area”.

Competitors must be in a position to get to this new area, even when the wind is null, where the Race Committee shall give an appropriate delay prior to launching a start procedure.

She shall display on an official board the number or name of the initial course’s mark that will become the new course’s first mark (possibly after the clearing buoy), the order of the following marks remaining unchanged.

13.1.2 Starting line

When not designed otherwise in the appendix, the starting line will be materialized by the course side of a striped yellow cylindrical buoy bearing a Guy Cotten marking, to be left on port; and the mast bearing an orange flag on the Race Committee boat, to be left on starboard. Shall a Jury Boat be moored in the extension of the start line, the starting mark is then constituted by the whole buoy, Jury Boat and the area that between them.

13.1.3 Change of the next leg of the course

In amendment with rules 32 and 33 of the RRS, Race Committee may, shall weather conditions or organization obligations and once the race has been launched, change the course on the marks designed in appendix. It is so commended to competitors to watch closely the surrounding areas when reaching these marks.

- Displaying a “C” flag
- Issuing short sound signals to competitors passing the mark
- Displaying the appropriate bearing (Windward-leeward course) or next mark to be passed (coastal course)

Course change shall be issued before the leading boat has started this new leg of the course.

Shall the Committee Boat be moored, competitors shall, when coming from the last mark, pass between the mark initiating the new course and the Race Committee boat, becoming a new mark, leaving the mark and the boat to appropriate side.

13.1.4 Shortening of the course

Race Committee may, shall weather conditions or organization obligations and once the race has been launched, shorten the course after the starting of the race, and score the arrival on the marks designed in appendix (this amends rule 32 of the RRS). It is so commended to competitors to watch closely the surrounding areas when reaching these marks.

Committee Boat shall display, in addition to the blue flag an “S” flags. The finish line is then materialized by the course side of the mark, and the pole bearing the “S” flag on the Committee Boat

Race Committee may, shall weather conditions or organization obligations and once the race has been launched, validate a race by means of an official clocking at one of the marks described in appendix (in amendment to rule 32 of the RRS). It is so commended to competitors to watch closely the surrounding areas when reaching these marks.

In such a case, shall one of the Committee Boats displaying the 2nd substitute with the class flag (amendment to the race signals), holds by the course side of the mark, he carries out an official clocking of competitors. The Committee Boat may emit repeated sound signals when competitors reach her.

Accordingly:

- 1 : Competitors must cross the line materialized by the mark and the referenced pole on the Committee Boat (this amends RRS 28).
- 2 : Competitors must remain on course.

If, thereafter, the Race Committee shall decide to stop the race, he will display both the « AP over S » and Class flags (modifying Race Signals), indicating :

“The race is stopped, the last official clocking will be taken into account for scoring. Any event subject to request happening after the crossing of this line shall not give way to protest, and no boat shall be given a penalty, except in consequence of any action concerning a fundamental ruling or RRS 69.”

Race Committee might confirm this by means of a VHF broadcast.

13.1.6 The finish

The finishing line is defined in course appendix.

In case of an arrival after sunset, the Committee boat shall have his mooring and deck lights on.

13.1.7 Buoys

Buoys used by the organization will be of cylindrical shape, yellow striped, displaying the “Guy Cotten” logo (any exception will be defined in the courses appendix).

13.2 Coastal course

13.2.1 Courses patterns

Courses for each stage are defined in appendix.

All of the marks in the course charts in appendix are, if not indicated otherwise, marks to bypass.

13.2.2 Course identification

Shall the Race Committee have a choice between several courses as defined in the appendix for the stage, the numerical flag matching the course number will be displayed on the Race Committee boat prior to the display of the warning signal.

13.2.3 Clearing buoy

A clearing mark might be set about one nautical mile windward from the Race Committee boat (shall the Race Committee decide to increase or decrease this distance, it will be displayed on the Race Committee boat and broadcasted on VHF). Bearing to this mark might, when possible, indicated on the Race Committee boat. In such a case, the Race Committee boat shall display the “D” flag, prior to the warning signal, and the clearing shall be left :

- on starboard if the Race Committee boat displays a green flag combined with « D »
- on port, if the only flag displayed is « D »

In the lack of clearing buoy, the first mark of the course is to be left on the side according to the definition of the course.

13.2.4 Course marks

Competitors are invited to pay attention to the necessity of making sure, while passing a mark subject to indicate a change, shortening or official clocking (as given in appendix), that none of these procedure is under way.
